Can Brazil Grow and Achieve Greater Equality and Environmental Sustainability?

This course provides both advanced undergraduate and graduate students the opportunity to examine Brazil’s recent development and evaluate the government’s economic, environmental, industrial, social, and trade policies and programs as it prepares to host the Summer Olympic Games. The course includes online modules and a two-week stay in Brazil with one week in Rio de Janeiro (June 5-12) followed by a week in Brasília (June 13-18).

Learn More and Apply Online at: http://studyabroad.gwu.edu/courses-offered

Professor:
Mark S. Langevin, Ph.D.
Adjunct Professor of the Elliott School of International Affairs-GWU
bomfim_1@gwu.edu